

well and valorously, and in fighting, in common with their comrades, they have fixed a standard for the American soldier below which it is hoped he will never fall.

HAMILTON C. JONES.

CHARLOTTE, N. C.,

9 APRIL, 1901.